OLD TERRIBLE TOOTH
WAS HEFTY CREATURE

He Lived Long Ago When
Upper Canada Was a
Tropical Swamp.

NEW YORK, March 5.—The skeleton of a prehistoric deinodon, calculated to be 60,000,000 years old, has been installed in Dinosaur Hall at the American Museum of Natural History. The deinodon, which is also known as "terrible-tooth," is described as perhaps the most swift and powerful creature of its time.

The skeleton stands seven feet, five inches high and measures twenty feet from the nose to the tip of its tail. It is supposed to have weighed several times as much as the largest lion of today.

Dr. W. D. Matthew, curator of the museum's department of vertebrate paleontology, says that our prehistoric ancestors perhaps did not have to contend with the deinodon, which likely was extinct before the earliest caveman.

The deinodon lived during the cretaceous period of the age of reptiles, according to calculations based on the alteration of radio-active minerals. The skeleton of the deinodon was found three years ago by Charles H. Sternberg in the canyon of the Red Deer river in Alberta, the richest repository of dinosaur skeletons yet discovered. The geography and climate of that region was far different 60,000,000 years ago, perhaps warm and marshy as the broad interior sea once stretching from the Gulf of Mexico to the Arctic Ocean, was gradually receding and filling up with swamps and tropical growth.

Reptiles roamed the earth in those days, and save for tiny opossum-like creatures in the trees, there were none of the higher quadrupeds or mammals.

It has been suggested that the tiny tree-dwellers helped bring about the extinction of gigantic reptiles by sucking the eggs deposited in the swamps.

Did Not Wait for People of Schleswig to Vote on Nationality.

COPENHAGEN, March 6.—The Prussian authorities when compelled to evacuate Schleswig in preparation for the plebiscite there "tried to grab whatever could be gathered up to the last minute," H. P. Hanssen, Minister from Schleswig to Denmark, told The Associated Press correspondent.

As late as January 17, they sold the victory memorials on the Ryboel hills and on the island of Als to a German company in Kiel. (Dyboel was a famous battlefield of Denmark's war with Austria and Germany in 1864.) Not only the Dyboel memorial erected above the two Danish trenches there, but the ground itself was sold to "private company," declared the Minister.

"This is a case of the sale of Prussian state property, which is absolutely forbidden by the conditions of the armistice of November 11, 1918. I have protested against the sale of the representatives of the Allied and Associated Powers, and we sincerely hope that they will aid us in our endeavors to take away from the Prussians their war trophy on the hills of Dyboel." The enormous Danish flag, the gift of Danish-born Americans, was hoisted on the fortifications of Dyboel on the day when the first plebiscite was held to decide whether Schleswig should remain German or be restored to Denmark.

BAPTISTS TO BUILD
113 NEW CHURCHES

Three and a Half Million
Dollars to be Expended.

Provision of new buildings for 113 churches at a cost of more than $3,500,000 and expenditure of $1,000,000 for additional modern equipment for 24 educational centers are included in recommendations of the Executive Department of the Northern Baptist Convention, as a part of the five-year program of the denomination's New World Movement.

An appropriation of $600,000 was also approved for clearing up the debts of 37 churches. Although building operations were almost entirely suspended in so far as the churches were concerned during the war, the report of the Executive Department for the past year, according to F. H. Devine, secretary, shows that a total of $725,000 was distributed among 29 churches to remove long-standing debts, purchase property and erect new buildings.

Within the year, the Baptists have also undertaken a new enterprise, the erection of the wartime type of community house or "hut." Two of these which have been completed, at East Hammond and Indiana Harbor, Ind., have proved so successful, that a wide extension of the work is planned for mining and lumber camps in the Northwest, and for industrial and manufacturing communities in many parts of the country.

GLAD TO TESTIFY

Says Walaga Lady, "As To What
Cardui Has Done For Me, So
As To Help Others."

Walaga, W. Va.—Mrs. S. W. Gladwell of this town, says: "When about 15 years of age, I suffered greatly. Sometimes would go a month or two, and I had terrible headache, backache, and bearing-down pains, and would just drag and had no appetite. Then... it would last... two weeks, and was so weakening, and my health was a wail."

My mother bought me a bottle of Cardui, and I began to improve after taking the first bottle, so kept it up till I took three... I gained, and was well and strong, and I owe it all to Cardui.

I am married now and have 3 children. I have never had to have a doctor for female trouble, and just resort to Cardui if I need a tonic. I am glad to testify to what it has done for me, so as to help others."

If you are nervous or weak, have headaches, backaches, or any of the other ailments so common to women, why not give Cardui a trial? Recommended by many physicians. In use over 40 years. Begin taking Cardui today. It may be the very medicine you need.
